

1. Educators Employment Liability (EEL) Coverage

Provides up to $1 million in damages assessed against you as a result of civil suits brought while you are/were a college student in a teaching or related activity as required by your educational program.

2. Scholarships

Student PSEA members are eligible to compete for scholarship money through the PSEA Lucy A. Valero Scholarship and the NEA-Retired Jack Kinnaman Scholarship.

3. Networking

Share ideas, concerns, successes, fears, and job leads with student members from across the state and nation. Start building relationships with active local leaders... relationships that may be helpful when job seeking!

4. Outreach Opportunities

Make a difference in your community through various activities ranging from book drives to tutoring programs.

5. Grant Opportunities

Student PSEA chapters can apply for up to $3,000 to fund local community outreach efforts through NEA's Grants. Student PSEA Grants are also available for professional development, community service, and membership recruitment activities.

6. Professional Development

Learn about new strategies and methods for teaching and share tips that you have learned along the way. Hear from new and veteran teachers about the issues facing public education and classroom teachers. Opportunities exist at the chapter and region levels through guest speakers and at the statewide level at the Student PSEA Conference and Convention.

7. Leadership Development

Opportunities to serve at the local, region, state or national level. Represent your colleagues at the PSEA House of Delegates, the NEA-Representative Assembly, or the NEA Student Leadership Conference.

8. Multi-Year Discounts

Did you know that you can save money on your dues by joining for more than one year? Pennsylvania is one of only a handful of states that offers a multi-year discount, saving you as much as $30. It's like buying three years and getting the fourth free!

9. NEA Student Rebate

NEA will refund you $20 for each year you were a student program member (up to four years) when you join a state union in your first year of eligibility and remain a member for the entire year.

10. Savings! Savings! Savings!

Recoup the cost of membership several times over by taking advantage of the many Member Benefits that are available to you. Local and national discounts for travel, entertainment, restaurants, retailers, cell phones, computers, and so much more!
