PSEA is looking for recent law school graduates for two full-time positions to aid PSEA attorneys in providing legal services to members. The two-year positions will be located in:

Harrisburg, PA

Pittsburgh, PA

This position is best described as a legal research and writing position similar to a judicial clerkship. Interested applicants should have an interest in labor and/or education law, have strong legal research and writing skills, and be able to analyze complex legal issues and prepare legal memorandum, briefs and pleadings as assigned by the attorneys. These individuals must also have self-supporting computer skills.

PSEA is looking for someone who is willing to make a two-year commitment. The position will begin September 2010, and will receive a salary of approximately $48,000, with a comprehensive benefits package.

PSEA History

PSEA is a professional and labor organization representing over 191,000 employees and retired employees of, and students preparing for employment in, public and private schools, colleges, universities, correctional facilities, and health care providers throughout this Commonwealth. PSEA has been an advocate for excellence in education since 1852. PSEA's legal staff is comprised of fourteen staff attorneys, ten support staff, and six retained counsel located across the state. As legal advocates for our members, PSEA attorneys specialize in labor and education law practice before arbitrators, state and federal courts, and various state and federal agencies, including the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board, the Professional Standards and Practices Commission, the Pennsylvania School Employees' Retirement Board, the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission, the National Labor Relations Board, and the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.
