

Applying the “Laws” of Life for a Healthy Classroom Balance*

Presented by: Cori Fecho, PSEA UniServ Representative

December 9, 2025 ♦ Eastern Region Office
4:30-5:00 p.m. registration/light dinner ♦ 5:00-7:00 p.m. workshop

Sayings are handed down from generation to generation because there is always some basis of “truth” ingrained in them to remind us that sometimes things just aren’t going to go as planned. But as how we speak changes, the messages of these sayings or “laws” get lost in translation.

This workshop will use “laws” like Murphy’s Law and the Law of Diminishing Returns to give educators a fresh perspective on their meanings. We will also use these “laws” to drive discussion on how we use them to improve the classroom environment. Using these “laws” to freshen our perspective and implement them in the classroom will promote a healthy classroom environment balanced to meet the demands of learning with the needs of its learners.

In the end, it could just be an entertaining way to rebalance ourselves when we are deep in the work of the year!!
